

Morning Links: 27 February 2008

Survey says 'Ditch the Tennessee Plan'

A survey commissioned by The Federalist Society, a group dedicated to a literal interpretation of the Constitution, indicates Tennessee voters don't know much about the Tennessee Plan that governs the election of state Supreme Court judges. But the survey also says those voters want to change it.